Unlocking hidden treasures of
England's cultural heritage
Explore | Discover | Take Part

The Full English

The Full English was a unique nationwide project unlocking hidden treasures of England's cultural heritage by making over 58,000 original source documents from 12 major folk collectors available to the world via a ground-breaking nationwide digital archive and learning project. The project was led by the English Folk Dance and Song Society (EFDSS), funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund and in partnership with other cultural partners across England.

The Full English digital archive (www.vwml.org) continues to provide access to thousands of records detailing traditional folk songs, music, dances, customs and traditions that were collected from across the country. Some of these are known widely, others have lain dormant in notebooks and files within archives for decades.

The Full English learning programme worked across the country in 19 different schools including primary, secondary and special educational needs settings. It also worked with a range of cultural partners across England, organising community, family and adult learning events.

Supported by the National Lottery through the Heritage Lottery Fund, the National Folk Music Fund and The Folklore Society.

Street Cries, Green Men and Morris Dancing: Using Folk Arts in Key Stage 1

Introduction

This cross-curricular project took place at Allens Croft Primary School in Kings Heath, Birmingham. It brought together exploration of English traditions, based on Years 2's theme of 'England'. The children participated in singing a range of English folk songs, as well as playing tunes on mini-melodeons. They listened, danced and responded to traditional tunes from The Full English digital archive, including the mysterious and haunting The Green Man, leading to an exploration of folk traditions and craft activities, inspiring their own wall plaques and the production of a market place.

Pupils composed their own lyrics and street cries. For the performances in school and the showcase conference, the children wore tatter jackets which they made themselves. They shared a wide range of the activities they had undertaken, including singing, dancing and playing the mini-melodeon.

The project supported two professional folk artists and educators to work with a Key Stage 1 (KS1) class for four whole days, and one half day session. It also supported planning and preparation time with the artists and the school staff. The Full English (TFE) also provided a trainee folk educator who worked alongside the professional artists throughout the project.

Project Aims and Methodology

The school's curriculum focus for KS1 was England. The project's overall aims included:

- To engage and explore traditional English folk arts (music, song, dance, drama) with support of external artists, and contributing to cross curricular learning objectives
- To explore some song writing ideas using material from the TFE digital archive as initial inspiration
- To create performance pieces

Points to consider

1. The curriculum theme of England is very broad and does not necessarily offer clear objectives
2. The overall aims include the support from external artists. In this case the artist were able to provide some very specific input e.g. whole class teaching of mini- melodeons
3. Exploration of TFE digital archives for the local area of Kings Heath did not provide anything this local. In broadening the search to Birmingham/West Midlands some of the digital archive material especially songs is not suitable for use with 6-7 year olds without adaptation.
4. Working for a whole day with one class of 6-7 year olds required a need to provide a wide range of learning opportunities to keep children engaged and focused. This was achieved by delivering the project as a fully integrated cross-curricular project

Methodology

- Research into local traditions and the local area – using both primary (visiting) and secondary research
- Exploration of geographically local and further afield material from TFE digital archive resources
- Collation of activities based on the above written into 'Schemes of Work' based on four strands:
 1. Music
 2. Dance
 3. Singing, Song Writing and Street Cries
 4. Crafts and Creativity
- Each project day was divided into 4 main sessions with time also allocated for Warm Up and Wind Down. A Daily Plan was then developed (with opportunities for flexibility). The daily plans are attached in Appendix 1.
- The plan was revisited between each sessions for updates, modifications and to ensure that the need to produce a performance piece for the Showcase was on track.

Activity Strand: Music

AIMS

- Exploring and engaging with traditional English Folk Music through learning to play a mini-melodeon

OBJECTIVES

- Whole class music making
- Learning to play simple tunes on the mini-melodeon
- Participation and performance
- Developing listening skills and learning traditional tunes by ear
- Responding to new musical stimuli and opportunities

INTRODUCTION and CONTEXT

- Introducing traditional folk tunes by artist/trainee
- Listening, clapping and tapping out different rhythms
- Questions and answers about the music and the instruments (melodeons, viola)

FIRST STEPS

- Introducing the mini-melodeon and establishing ground rules
- Learning to play scale of C major
- Learning to play the first tune Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star

Photo of pupils playing mini-melodeons in school (Ros Chesher)

ACTIVITY MENU

(to be developed and choices taken from throughout the project)

- Gaining confidence and musical aptitude through simple and well known tunes. E.g.: Mary had a Little Lamb, The Bear Dance
- Small group and solo playing opportunities
- Progression to simple Morris dance tunes e.g. Shepherds Hey from The Full English digital archive:

OUTCOMES

- Engagement with traditional folk music
- Succeeding in playing simple tunes on a new musical instrument
- Enjoying making music and having memorable experiences
- Plotting musical sources on to map of England
- Participation and performance e.g.
 - Solo performance to class mates
 - Group/class performances to other classes
 - Performing one tune at the Full English National Conference

CURRICULUM LINKS from Sept 2014 onwards

Opportunities to:

- Perform, listen to, review and evaluate music across a range of historical periods, genres, styles and traditions
- To have the opportunity to learn a musical instrument
- Play and perform in solo and ensemble contexts
- Listen with attention to detail and recall sounds with increasing aural memory
- Use and understand musical notations
- Appreciate and understand a wide range of high-quality live and recorded music drawn from different traditions

AIMS

- Exploring and engaging with traditional Morris Dancing

OBJECTIVES

- Learning a simple traditional Morris dance
- Participation and performance using a range of movement patterns and coordinated activities
- Team work

INTRODUCTION and CONTEXT

- Introducing traditional folk dance by artist/trainee through digital resources
- Introducing historical accounts of Morris dancing in the Birmingham area by using sources from The Full English digital archive
- Questions and answers about the music and dancing

FIRST STEPS

- Introducing folk dance with warm up exercises and a few simple Ceilidh dances
- Learning to dance a simple variant of the Upton on Severn Stick Dance - initially with clapping and then after establishing 'safe practice' using sticks for the complete dance

(to be developed and choices taken from throughout the project)

- Gaining confidence, enjoyment and appreciation of traditional English folk/Morris dancing through simple and well known Ceilidh dances and also further Morris dances eg. Steeple Claydon

OUTCOMES

- A greater knowledge and understanding of the diversity of folk dance traditions
- Enjoying Morris and folk dance and having memorable experiences
- Enjoying being active and using creativity and imagination in physical activity
- Plotting traditional dance sources on to map of England
- Participation and performance e.g.
 - Group performances to other classes
 - Performing one dance at the Full English National Conference

CURRICULUM LINKS from Sept 2014 onwards

- Opportunities to enhance the aims, and content of the Physical Education Programme of Study for KS1 including 'performing dances using a range of movement patterns'.

Activity Strand: Singing, Song Writing and Street Cries

AIMS

- Exploring and engaging with traditional English Folk Music through learning traditional songs and singing together.

OBJECTIVES

- Using traditional 'street cries' collected in Birmingham to develop song writing skills
- Using IT to capture sounds and songs
- Whole class singing together
- Learning about the historical context of street cries
- Participation and performance
- Responding to new stimuli and opportunities

INTRODUCTION and CONTEXT

- Introducing traditional songs by artist/trainee
- Using actions and clapping rhythmically to accompany songs
- Questions and answers: How does singing make you feel, how can songs be used? i.e. to express emotion to tell stories to attract attention, advertise wares etc.

FIRST STEPS

- Experiencing the enjoyment of singing together
- Learning a song to sing together
- Introducing the idea of street cries and market calls

ACTIVITY MENU

(to be developed and choices taken from throughout the project)

- Rattling Bog (action and clapping song)
- Hole in the Bottom of the Sea (cumulative, memory developing song)
- Street cries from Birmingham from The Full English digital archive:
 - Young Lambs to Sell
 - Flies, Flies
- Exploring the range of produce etc. that is sold at a market and pupils writing their own street cries to advertise their wares
- Producing a Soundscape to accompany the street cries
- Using a portable recording studio to record their cries and Soundscapes

OUTCOMES

- Engagement with traditional folk song
- Enjoying singing and having memorable experiences
- Plotting historical sources on to map of England
- Participation and performance e.g.
 - Solo performance to class mates
 - Group/class performances to other classes
 - Recording Soundscapes and cries
 - Performing at the Full English National Conference

Activity Strand: Craft and Creativity

AIMS

- Exploring and engaging with traditional English Folk Arts, traditions and customs and using resources from The Full English digital archives to stimulate modern interpretations

OBJECTIVES

- Developing simple costumes for performance pieces
- Using modern creative techniques to engage with traditional customs and stories about The Green Man
- Responding to The Full English archive material to stimulate the writing of new poems, stories and printed broad sheets

INTRODUCTION and CONTEXT

- Introducing craft activities using modern, up to date materials to recreate traditional designs.

FIRST STEPS

- Introducing the idea of appropriate costumes for performing both dance and musical pieces e.g. on the mini-melodeon
- Costumes to be broadly based around the description from The Full English digital archives of Morris Dancers performing in Birmingham
- Safety ground rules

ACTIVITY MENU

(to be developed and choices taken from throughout the project)

- Making costumes (coloured tatters on white T-shirts)
- Making Green Man plaques from air dried clay – with historical references and also The Green Man tune from The Full English digital archive
- Writing poems and producing printed Broadsheets (e.g. using potato prints)

OUTCOMES

- A class set of costumes for performance
- Individual Green Man plaques for display
- Poems/stories with printed borders for display and also reading out loud to others
- Plotting historical sources on to map of England
